

STAT

[redacted]
is hereby awarded the

CERTIFICATE OF DISTINCTION

in recognition of her superior performance with the Central Intelligence Agency from July 1982 through March 1983. During this period she served as a member of a highly dedicated, hardworking and professional team whose outstanding efforts resulted in the redirection and implementation of a major project to support intelligence analysts. Her superb contributions to this extraordinary technological, staffing and coordination commitment enabled completion of this program within the time limits imposed and with essentially no impact on the production services

STAT provided to its consumers. [redacted] competence and pursuit of excellence reflect credit on herself, the Office of Data Processing and the Central Intelligence Agency.